FBAR REPORTING

If we ask for you to complete this form, it is because you hold more than $10K in aggregate foreign accounts that you either have direct access to, signatory authority or are credited to you. It includes retirement accounts, cash value of life insurance and any property that generates income. This is a disclosure to the US Treasury - not an income tax return. US tax treaty provisions that allow an US resident for tax purposes to file as a non-resident do not affect the residency test for FBAR filings. (See Internal Revenue Manual §4.26.16.2.1.2(6))

| Institution |
|---|
| Address: |
| Maximum Value During Year (use yearend or account end if unknown) |
| Type of Account (Retirement, Brokerage, Savings etc) |
| Account Number |
| |
| Institution |
| Address: |
| Maximum Value During Year (use yearend or account end if unknown) |
| Type of Account (Retirement, Brokerage, Savings etc) |
| Account Number |
| |
| Institution |
| Address: |
| Maximum Value During Year (use yearend or account end if unknown) |
| Type of Account (Retirement, Brokerage, Savings etc) |
| Account Number |
| |
| Institution |
| Address: |
| Maximum Value During Year (use yearend or account end if unknown) |
| Type of Account (Retirement, Brokerage, Savings etc) |
| Account Number |